

We are only as strong as our human resource

Author: Memory Nguwi . September 2019

Economic development is a result of the people we have. Every job will be done if you put the right people in the right jobs. That's the biggest challenge facing Africa, especially. The key issue is a cognitive power. It's the capacity to think, to find solutions to problems.

In this TEDxHarare presentation Memory Nguwi shares more about individual's working capacity, intelligent fools, and levels of work complexity, architectural model of competence, personality and why we should invest in preschool education.

Watch the video below:

<https://thehumancapitalhub.com/articles/We-Are-Only-As-Strong-As-Our-Human-Resource>