Author: Nicholas Mushayi . November 2021

Apply for the position of project officer for which UNESCO is hiring.

DEADLINE: 20 December 2021

OVERVIEW OF THE FUNCTIONS OF THE POST

The UNESCO Institute for Statistics (UIS) is the statistical office of UNESCO and is the UN depository for global statistics in the fields of education, science, technology and innovation, culture, and communication.

The UIS is the official source of internationally comparable data used to monitor progress towards the Sustainable Development Goal on education. The UIS is the official source of SDG 4 Global and Thematic Frameworks, SDG target 9.5 and SDG 11.4.1. and hosts and co-chairs the Technical Cooperation Group on the indicators for SDG 4.

The UIS was established to improve UNESCO's statistical program and to develop and deliver timely, accurate, and policy-relevant statistics needed in today's increasingly complex and rapidly changing social, political, and economic environments. The UIS collects, collates, and curates education, science, and culture data and provides free access to data for UNESCO countries and regional groupings from 1970 to the most recent year available. Within the mandate of strengthening SDG reporting, the UIS has supported regions and countries in developing benchmarks for selected SDG 4 indicators and region-specific education indicators; and, under the leadership of the African Union, is responsible for reporting against the CESA framework. The UIS is developing a Global Education Observatory (GEO), with the vision of providing the Member States and the international community with a gateway to education-related data that fulfills the need of national, regional, and global stakeholders for easy access to information for decision making, which response flexibly to short, medium and long-term priorities.

As part of its strategy for collaboration, brokerage, and the generation of public goods the UIS has worked with UNICEF, World Bank, OECD and the GEMR on the Joint Survey of national education responses to COVID 19 and is developing resources to support the monitoring of commitments for Mission: Recovering Education 2021.
